FIRST MINISTER:
Nicola Sturgeon

Independence will cost each Scot £2,800!

NICOLA Sturgeon's dream of independence would hit the Scottish economy harder than Brexit, and rejoining the EU would make little difference, a team of academics claims.

The economic damage from leaving both unions would be the equivalent of an income loss of between £2,000 and £2,800 per person, according to an analysis of trade by the London School of Economics.

Boffins there say the economic cost of independence are two or three times greater than Brexit due to the volume of Scotland's trade with the rest of the UK.

They found together, Brexit and independence (without rejoining the EU) are estimated to reduce long-run Scottish income per capita by around 6.5% in an optimistic scenario and 8.7% in a pessimistic one.

Alcohol deaths at their highest

DEATHS caused by alcohol hit a new high during the first nine months of 2020.

Between January and September, 5,460 of these death causes were registered – up 16 per cent on the same period in 2019.

It is the biggest toll recorded since records began in 2001.

The high rates spanned the period during and after the first COVID lockdown, the Office for National Statistics figures show.

Rates of male alcohol specific deaths were twice those of women.

A GENTLEMAN AND A HERO

Nation thanks Captain Sir Tom Moore

MESSAGE: Her Majesty

THE Queen last night led tributes to Captain Sir Tom Moore, who died yesterday from coronavirus.

Buckingham Palace said she was sending Sir Tom's family a private message of condolence.

The 100-year-old hero, who raised almost £33 million for the NHS, was taken to Bedford Hospital after suffering breathing difficulties on Sunday.

His daughter Hannah Ingram-Moore said he was treated for pneumonia over the past few weeks and last week tested positive for COVID-19.

FUNDS: Sir Tom raised £33 million for the NHS

The Army veteran won the nation's hearts by walking 100 laps of his garden before his 100th birthday.

In a statement, Capt Sir Tom's daughters Mrs Ingram-Moore and Lucy Teixeira said: "It is with great sadness that we announce the death of our dear father."

"We are so grateful that we were with him during the last hours of his life – Hannah, Benjie and Georgia by his bedside and Lucy online."

"We spent hours chatting to him – reminiscing about our childhood and our wonderful mother. The last year of our father's life was nothing short of remarkable – he was rejuvenated and experienced things he had only ever dreamed of.

"While he'd been in so many hearts for just a short time, he was an incredible dad and grandad, and will stay alive in our hearts forever."

Capt Sir Tom's daughter said the care he received from the NHS was "extraordinary" and that staff had been "unflinching professional, kind and compassionate and gave us many more years with him than we ever would have imagined".

Boffins find new variant of COVID bug

THINK AGAIN: Michelle Donelan

THE mutant COVID virus discovered in Kent has mutated AGAIN – into a bug able to evade the immune system.

A professor of outbreak medicine, who is part of a panel that advises the Government, said this is the mutation that is currently "of most concern".

The new E484K mutation is the same change as has been seen in the South African and Brazilian variants, that are causing international concern.

"The mutation of most concern, E484K, has also

By JENNIFER DRAPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

occurred spontaneously in the new Kent strain in parts of the country, too," Calum Semple, a member of the Scientific Advisory Group for Emergencies told BBC radio.

News of the new mutant bug comes as people in areas where the South African coronavirus variant is spreading were warned to "think again" before leaving the house.

Government minister Michelle Donelan said that residents should abide by restrictions "to the letter" given the UK is at a "perilous" stage in the pandemic.

Asked if the advice to those in eight postcodes where cases of the new variant has been found – with seemingly no travel links – is any different to the national measures, she admitted: "It's not... we're all in a lockdown."

"But the message is 'think again' just before you go about activities, even for those activities that are within the rules, like essential shopping."

"Do you really need to go for that shopping or have you got enough in? Could you work from home? Could you have that conversation with your employer? It's about reinforcing the rules that are in place."

Door-to-door testing for the South African variant has been rolled out in parts of London, Walsall, Broxbourne, Southport, Maidstone and Guildford.

Ministers say there is no evidence variant is any more deadly, but that it is more transmissible.

Dr Susan Hopkins of Public Health England said at a Downing Street briefing that three vaccines trialled showed effectiveness against it at a higher level than the minimum standard set by the World Health Organisation.

MPs UNITE OVER PORT WORKERS

STORMONT ministers have united to appeal for threats against workers conducting Brexit port checks to be lifted.

Inspections at Larne and Belfast ports were suspended on Monday after graffiti and reports of intelligence-gathering on inspectors, and police then stepped up patrols.

Lorries arriving at new inspection facilities at Belfast Port (above) yesterday were turned around and redirected by Border Force officials.

The parties in Belfast are divided on EU withdrawal and the Northern Ireland Protocol which keeps the land border in Ireland open but imposes controls on the Irish Sea.

In a joint Stormont executive statement, they said: "As public servants, these staff should be allowed to do their jobs without fear and it is unacceptable and intolerable that threats have been made."

Loyalists are angry at the imposition of a new economic border between Northern Ireland and the rest of the UK.

Supermarkets cash in during UK lockdowns

SUPERMARKETS saw a surge in sales as the tiering systems and new national lockdowns helped boost their sales by 12.2 per cent in the 12 weeks to January 24.

Analysts said this was an acceleration on the Christmas period, as the reintroduction of national lockdown restrictions and the closure of cafes, pubs and restaurants saw eating out banned.

Market research group Kantar said in January shoppers spent £1 billion more on supermarket food and drinks compared with the same month a year ago.

Iceland (above) had the strongest growth of all the supermarkets with physical stores, with sales rising 21.8% in the 12-week period compared with 2019.

It was followed by Morrisons (up 14.3%), Tesco (12.2%), Lidl (12.1%) and then Sainsbury's (12%).

A spokesman for Kantar said: "During January, there was also a 23% boost in vegan products – with many families adopting 'Veganuary'."

BP announce £4.2bn losses

BP has announced a huge annual loss of £4.2 billion after oil prices and demand tumbled during the pandemic.

The firm's hefty underlying replacement cost losses – its most watched measure – compare with profits of £7.3bn in 2019 and come despite a bounce-back in the second half of the year as oil prices started to recover.

On a reported basis, BP tumbled into the red with replacement cost losses of £13.2bn against profits of £2.6bn a year earlier after significant write-downs.

BP's results for the final quarter of 2020 show it made underlying profits of £84m, having swung out of the red in the previous quarter, but the figures were worse than expected.

NAUGHTY Miley Cyrus woke up the Daily Mail's notorious online commentators when she posted a snap of herself stark naked in the bath.

The 28-year-old former Disney pin-up had the paper's website users in a froth as she cheekily cupped her boobs beneath her arm.

Miley – who has a whopping 235 million social media followers – captioned her snap: "For a good time call..."

Another US responder, Zibzibu in Hollywood, said: "She's thirsty for sex again."

And Oktobriana, in New York, commented: "I'd hate to be a male...especially a young male...because we have a generation of females that are sending very confusing messages."

Miley said she has "been working my ass off on this set list" for the first-ever Tik Tok Tailgate event, which airs on February 7.

Gloves are off for Sanders's 'racist' mittens

A NUTTY professor claims the MITTENS worn by veteran US leftie Bernie Sanders on Inauguration Day are RACIST!

The senator from Vermont (above) wore a thick parka and big gloves as Joe Biden was sworn in as US president.

And Ingrid Seyer-Ochi, a former UC Berkeley professor, says his choice of recycled wool mittens "manifests privilege".

The barmy lecturer wrote: "A wealthy, incredibly well-educated and privileged white man, showing up for perhaps the most important ritual of the decade in a puffy jacket and huge mittens."

Sanders, she said, "manifests privilege, white privilege, male privilege and class privilege, in ways that my students could see and feel".

She said many people without privilege would not be able to dress like Sanders did on such an occasion.

A TEN-FOOT FROSTY PHALLUS IS CAUSING A ROAD HAZARD IN SWEDEN, SO HERE'S SOME MORE WINTER CREATIONS THAT ARE...

SNOW RUDE!

By GRACE HOOPER

IT'S an absolute law of nature that as soon as it snows, someone will sculpt something really rude from the white stuff.

That was proved in Sweden last week.

As we reported in last week's Midweek Sport, a ten-foot-tall snow penis appeared at a roundabout.

And safety groups said it could cause an accident!

The snowy phallus appeared at the junction just outside Borås, Sweden, after heavy snowfall.

More winter chaos after coldest Jan

LAST month was the coldest January in the UK for 10 years, with more wintry weather expected to cause disruption this week.

There was heavy snowfall in parts of northern England overnight, causing the closure of a major road near Rochdale, Lancs, when vehicles got stuck and a lorry jack-knifed.

Rural communities are at risk of becoming cut off, while widespread travel disruption is also likely.

The Met Office said January had an average temperature of 2.2C, making it the coldest across the UK since 2010 when the average temperature was 0.9C.

It has also been the coldest calendar month since March 2013, which also recorded an average temperature of 2.2C.

HALF-NAKED NUT'S FALSE TEETH FLEW OUT

DRUGS PROBLEM: Donaldson

'It's hilarious in hindsight, but at the time it was quite frightening'

A CLINICAL researcher who found a nearly naked stranger in his home watched in shock as the 58-year-old man's false teeth flew out during a bizarre rampage.

Craig White was working from home when he found Eric Donaldson standing topless in his hallway with his trousers round his ankles.

Donaldson – who was under the influence of drugs – refused to leave and became so agitated that his dentures flew out across the room.

Mr White, 40, said he left his Perth home and shut Donaldson inside when he became increasingly aggressive as he waited for cops to arrive and deal with him.

When the police led Donaldson from the house, he was wearing Mr White's slippers and carrying a family portrait, a pencil sharpener and a card from a pack of Happy Families.

He had left behind money which had fallen from his pocket.

Fear

Father-of-three Mr White – whose wife and children were out for a walk at the time – said he could laugh about the incident now, but it was frightening at the time.

Donaldson, of Perth, appeared at Perth Sheriff Court and admitted acting in a threatening or abusive manner in Bridge of Earn on January 12.

He admitted causing fear or alarm by entering the house uninvited in a state of undress and spitting several times, including spitting his false teeth out onto the floor.

He also admitted acting aggressively, shouting and swearing, rummaging through handbags and drawers, repeatedly picking items up and refusing to leave.

By COLIN HURST

Defending, Mike Tavendale told the court: "He has a drug issue and suffers from epilepsy and, to be frank, he has little or no recollection of this incident at all."

"He had taken medication and is on a methadone script and he has no idea how he came to be there."

Mr White said: "I asked why he was here. He was making absolutely no sense at all."

"Only at that point did I realise he was perhaps on drugs or intoxicated."

"He had boxers on but his trousers were round his ankles."

"His teeth came out. It's hilarious in hindsight, but at the time it was quite frightening."

"I picked up his teeth with a tissue and put them with the pile of his stuff outside."

Donaldson's sentence was deferred.

Online slots must protect gamblers

THE online slot machine industry must introduce a series of strict new measures to protect its players, the Gambling Commission has announced.

Online slot machines have soared in popularity during the pandemic as lockdowns and the cancellation of sporting events have seen gamblers turn to the games in record numbers.

However, by the end of October, online slot machine operators must limit the speed of the games, stop using sounds and images suggesting a "win" when the user has lost, and end the use of auto-play settings.

Slots are worth £2.2 billion and the industry is growing at around £100m a year, according to the regulator.

A Gambling Commission spokesman said: "This is an important step in making gambling safer."

Naked man's excuse: I had snakes in pants

A MAN running naked along a street said he took off his underpants because they were full of SNAKES.

Police say James Whitley was found in the car park of a convenience store in Wausau, Wisconsin, in freezing temperatures.

Whitley, 32, told cops he could not put on his underpants, which were located nearby, because they were full of snakes.

Police say no snakes were found.

Whitley allegedly punched the window of the store, which was closed with the door locked, because he believed someone was after him and had drugged him.

Police say Whitley (above) was agitated and appeared to be experiencing a medical emergency.

He was taken to Aspirus Wausau Hospital, where he tested positive for amphetamine.

Whitley was later taken to the Marathon County Jail and will appear in court on charges of indecency and criminal damage.

It's COVID now – next up is Candida Auris

NEVER mind COVID... the next pandemic could be caused by a yeast-like fungal infection which experts describe as a nearly "perfect pathogen".

The Candida Auris fungus can be fatal, particularly if it enters the bloodstream – typically through catheters or other tubes entering the body in healthcare settings.

It was first identified in 2009 and is almost impervious to antifungal drugs, according to Johanna Rhodes, an epidemiologist with Imperial College London.

Rhodes, who helped tackle a 2016 outbreak of Candida auris, warned: "One of the things that makes Candida auris so scary is the fact it can linger on inanimate surfaces for long periods and withstand whatever you throw at it."

ZOELLA RAGE AT TEEN DILDO BAN

YouTube star furious as channel dropped from GCSE course

YOUTUBE sensation Zoella has hit out at an exam board for dropping her online channel from its GCSE syllabus after she posted a 'best sex toys review'.

The star – who has millions of followers – raged: “It worries me they think 16-year-olds aren’t exploring their bodies.”

UK exam board AQA said the 30-year-old (right) – whose real name is Zoe Sugg – had been removed from its media studies curriculum after an article headlined ‘The Best Sex Toys to Spice Up Your Life in 2021’ was posted to her website.

The Youtuber and businesswoman reacted to the news on Instagram, saying: “It worries me that they think 16 year olds aren’t exploring their own bodies, doing this with someone else or know what a sex toy is.”

Horror

She revealed: “Some parents complained, as we had posted an article listing the best sex toys for 2021 & apparently this is absolutely disgusting that 16 year olds should even be graced with such horror.”

On January 13, Zoella’s website reviewed a range of vibrators priced between £5 and £180 – including a

By GRACE HOOPER

‘Rampant Rabbit G Spot Stroking Vibrator’, a ‘Womanizer Duo Rabbit Vibrator’, a Tenga Egg Penis Masturbator and ‘The Fireman’.

The exam board responded by removing a section on Zoella in its Close Study Products booklet because the material was not ‘suitable’.

AQA’s head of curriculum for creative arts, Sandra Allan, said: “GCSE Media Studies includes the analysis of online and social media and we added Zoella in 2017. At the time, all her content was appropriate for teaching, but some of Zoella’s recent content is aimed specifically at an adult audience and isn’t suitable for GCSE students.

“As a result, we’ve removed the section on Zoella from the course and we’ve contacted our schools and colleges to let them know.”

Zoella added: “We want to talk about taboo subjects, have conversations with experts, ask those less heard to use their voice and try to have a really varied range of topics to help, inspire or make people feel less alone.”

Woman hid dead mum in freezer

A WOMAN was arrested after a cleaner found her mother’s body in the freezer of her apartment.

Cops in Japan said the body had been bent to fit into the freezer.

Yumi Yoshino, 48, said she hid the body 10 years ago after coming home to find her 60-year-old mum dead – because she “didn’t want to move out” of their home in Tokyo.

There were no visible wounds on the frozen body, police said.

The time and cause of the woman’s death has not been determined.

The body was reportedly found after Yoshino had been evicted from the apartment due to missing rent payments.

Yoshino was arrested in a hotel in the city of Chiba, near Tokyo.

CLOONEY TO STAR IN BUCK ROGERS REBOOT

THE sci-fi classic “Buck Rogers” is set to be unfrozen again – but this time in the 21st century with some major star power.

George Clooney (below) has reportedly joined the forthcoming limited series as executive producer and, while there’s no acting deal in place, it could be a “potential starring vehicle” for the actor, 59.

Legendary is developing the Brian K. Vaughan adaptation as a possible jumping-off point for a subsequent film and anime off-shoot.

Buck Rogers first appears in the pulpy sci-fi magazine Amazing Stories in 1928 as a war vet who falls into a coma and wakes up in the 25th century.

A popular comic strip, radio series and 12-part movie serial were released throughout the 1930s.

The character’s most recent screen outing, Buck Rogers in the 25th Century, started as a made-for-TV movie pilot in 1979 and then ran as a campy cult classic for two seasons on NBC.

CYBER SEX GOES BOOM ON ZOOM!

THE UK is going through a cyber sex boom – with record numbers of bored couples having affairs online to beat lockdown blues, according to a new survey.

Affairs site IllicitEncounters.com has seen a 14% rise in subscriptions over the last year as people seek new relationships after being stuck at home with their partners for almost a year.

Since the first lockdown in March last year, three-quarters of cheaters (74%) have enjoyed online sex sessions on platforms such as Zoom, Facetime and Skype.

And nine out of ten (91%) say they will start cheating again in the flesh once all the vulnerable are vaccinated – leading to an affairs boom in the spring.

Just 9% said they would stick to cyber sex until the Covid crisis is over, which might not be until summer.

Illicit

A quarter (24%) said they preferred cyber sex because it is less complicated and it is easier to make excuses and leave afterwards.

The results are from a new survey of 2,000 people having affairs during lockdown by IllicitEncounters.com, the UK's leading dating site for married people.

It found the vast majority of cheaters (86%) had stuck to the rules and avoided physical contact with lovers outside their bubble.

A third of members (32%) were meeting up with lovers over the summer when infection rates were low.

But this figure has dropped

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

significantly since the second lockdown, when the second wave swept the country.

The most popular locations for illicit sex outside the home were cars (32%) had tried this, countryside (28%), a park (17%) and a beach (15%).

There has been a big increase in cyber sex sessions since the autumn, with 80% of female members and 68% of male members saying they had stripped off for sex with a partner online.

Nine out of ten female cheaters (92%) and 88% of men having affairs said they sought cyber sex because they were 'bored' with their current relationship.

The vast majority (82%) said they enjoyed cyber sex and found it to be a good substitute for real sex.

The survey found that 89% of cheaters had initiated a new affair in the last year.

The average female member has had three new affairs, with 34% having met their lovers over the last year for sex.

Male members have had slightly fewer affairs – averaging out at 2.6 new affairs each – and 30% have met up with women for sex.

Booming

IllicitEncounters.com sex and relationship expert Jessica Leoni said: "The government is never going to stop people from having sex, no matter how strict the rules are."

"However, no one wants to put people in danger, so we have seen over the last year the more inventive ways that people find to still have sex. "Cyber sex is booming and people are having affairs on their phones and laptops all over the UK.

"Lots of our members view cyber sex as a good substitute for real sex because there is none of the faff afterwards – you can quickly make your excuses and leave."

"There will be a huge affairs boom in the spring when the vulnerable are protected and the pressure is lifted from hospitals."

"It's going to be like a mass prison break-out because we have all been stuck at home for far too long."

Kidnap victim slapped with COVID-19 fine

AN unlucky man was kidnapped by vicious debt collectors who mistook him for someone else – then slapped with a fine for breaking COVID rules!

The man – whose last name is Chen – returned to his home in Taiwan from Hong Kong in October and began his mandatory two-week quarantine at a pal's home.

But men who said they were debt collectors came to the home and mistook Chen for his friend, who owed them a sum of money.

Chen was attacked and abducted by the goons, who took him to his own home to get the money, before returning him to his friend's house.

Taiwanese authorities may have been alerted to Chen's breach through the electronic monitoring of phone signals, which the government uses to enforce quarantine.

He was slapped with a £2,600 fine.

However, authorities later saw sense and cancelled the penalty after investigators confirmed Chen's ordeal.

TOPLESS BABES IN BED!

By GRACE HOOPER news@sundaysport.co.uk

RANDY Brits have been snapping up four-poster beds... hoping to recreate the raunchy romps in TV's Bridgerton.

The beds feature regularly in Netflix's Regency-era bonkbuster, which began streaming at the end of last year.

Since then, Argos has seen a 112 per cent increase in the number of people searching for its Habitat four-poster beds. And sales are up 300% since November.

The retail firm said four-poster beds were no longer seen as an "extravagance reserved for stately homes".

Red-hot

The French Bedroom Company also said customers were asking to help them "get the Bridgerton look".

And John Lewis's own brand four-poster bed is just back in stock after selling out.

But you don't need a four-poster to be sexy. Any old bed can be red-hot once you plop a sexy babe in it.

So here are five pages of our most gorgeous models topless in bed!..

STARTS TODAY – OUR BRAND NEW SERIES LOOKS AT WHAT HAPPENS

Cornered and surrounded, he blew his own head off

IT began with an 18-week prison sentence and one man's blistering rage after his girlfriend dumped him.

It ended in the most extraordinary manhunt seen in the UK for years.

The Raoul Moat emergency began almost unnoticed on Thursday, July 1, 2010.

HM Prison Durham opened its gates and the former nightclub bouncer walked free after serving a short sentence for assault.

But the previous month, he had learned that his relationship with his on-off girlfriend Samantha Stobbart was finally off.

He left an ominous message on Facebook warning: "Watch and see what happens."

What DID happen next became one of the grisliest chapters in British criminal history.

IT seemed like there was no stopping him.

On July 2, 2010, the prison contacted police to warn them that they thought just-released prisoner Raoul Moat might pose a danger to his ex, Samantha Stobbart.

They weren't wrong.

In the early hours of Saturday, July 3, Ms Stobbart was shot at a house in Birtley, Gateshead, but luckily survived.

Chris Brown, her new boyfriend, who Moat wrongly thought was a police officer – the ultimate betrayal, in his eyes – was not so fortunate. He was also shot just outside the house and later died from his injuries.

Victim

The next night, PC David Rathband, a patrolling officer in uniform, was shot through the window of his car in the west end of Newcastle.

Horribly injured and blinded, he still managed to call for help – but Moat, 37, had fled the scene.

PC Rathband, unable to cope with his disabilities and the split from his wife, hanged himself two years later – yet another victim of Moat's insatiable wrath.

Detectives at Northumbria Police knew by then that they had a major incident on their hands.

And there was no greater confirmation than the letter Moat left with a friend, detailing his grudges.

"Last night I called 999 and declared war on Northumbria Police before shooting an officer," he wrote.

"Rang again and told them they're gonna pay for what they've done to me and Sam. I went straight but they couldn't let it go.

"The public need not fear me but the police should – as I won't stop till I'm dead."

These were not words written by a man full of beer, bravado and bullshit, though.

Over the following days, Moat became Britain's most wanted man.

Snare

Day after day, Moat avoided capture, while detectives desperately tried to work out how to snare him.

Along the way he was suspected of the armed robbery of a fish and chip shop in Seaton Delaval, near Blyth.

But by the middle of the week, all attention had turned to the small market town of Rothbury, on the edge of the Northumberland National Park.

On the Wednesday, four days after his release from prison, police revealed that they had found what they believed to be Moat's makeshift camp.

By the remains of a fire was another letter left behind for Samantha. A press conference was called and police pleaded with Moat to give himself up.

DEADLY SERIOUS:

Det Ch Supt Neil Adamson told the suspect he was mistaken and that Sam wasn't seeing a police officer, the misguided reason behind his jealous fury.

At the same time, some of the nation's top police marksmen were flooding into the area to join the expanding hunt.

London's Metropolitan

Police sent 40 of its elite firearms officers – the most highly experienced marksmen and women in the country, trained to confront suicide bombers and to take split-second decisions on when to pull the trigger.

Exclusion

Northern Ireland despatched 20 armoured cars on an evening ferry – vehicles designed to withstand an attack by armed paramilitaries. Air and land exclusion zones were established over Rothbury as officers tried to narrow their search with the help of an RAF Tornado fitted with imaging equipment. No stone was left unturned – even to the extent of secretly getting TV survival expert Ray Mears on the scene for advice on tracking people. An “associate” of Moat’s was enlisted to help the police. His best friend Tony Laidler was escorted to the scene by authorities in an attempt to persuade him to surrender.

Moat’s uncle, Charlie Alexander, offered to do whatever he could to make the bouncer turn himself in.

By the Thursday, four people had been arrested in connection with the inquiry – and it emerged that Moat had made wider threats against the public as a whole.

At about 8pm on the Friday, eight days after Moat’s release from prison, police sealed off an area of Rothbury near the River Coquet. They’d cornered him.

Waiting

A witness revealed the man, surrounded by police, had quietly lain down and pressed the gun against his own neck.

Just hours before, Moat had been like a needle in a haystack. Now he was contained, separated from the public, with nowhere left to go. The waiting began.

Some local people were locked inside their homes inside the exclusion zone, including a wedding party of 100 unable to leave a hotel.

And the waiting went on.

Brit firearms officers are trained to do two things – react instantly if required but wait for ever if need be.

There was no chance that Moat could flee.

Officers armed with handguns, specialist MP5 sub-machine guns and electro-shock Taser weapons were just 20ft away.

At one bizarre stage, the troubled former England and Newcastle footballer Paul “Gazza” Gascoigne turned up with a bucket of fried chicken, a fishing rod and some beer for Moat, but was turned away.

Sterile

Otherwise, it was then a text-book situation – a controlled “sterile” area where the police have the upper hand, but the suspect has all the time in the world to think things through.

As the officers settled in for the night, lights were brought in by the fire service.

And then it was over to Raoul Moat.

Bodybuilder, bouncer, thug, jilted lover – and murderer.

And, by now also Britain’s most wanted man, cornered after a manhunt that had gripped the nation.

The end seemed to be inevitable. And it was.

Moat brought the saga to a close in the early hours of July 10 – by turning his sawn-off shotgun on himself.

WOMAN'S HEAD WAS FOUND ON CAR'S BACK SEAT

CAR-AZY: Nava-Garibay fought with two women

Monster chopped up victims as bodies ‘too heavy to lift’

COPS found a murder victim’s head on the back seat of an abandoned car and the dismembered remains of another person in the boot.

Mauricio Nava-Garibay, 28, was arrested following the grisly discovery near Othello, in the eastern part of Washington state.

Nava-Garibay confessed to the double murders, saying he killed the two women in a fight and cut them up because they were “too heavy to lift” into the car, police said.

He revealed he fought with one victim in her home before telling her he had a “present” for her in the garage.

Strangled

Once in the garage, Nava-Garibay told cops he punched the woman in the face, stabbed her in the face and stomach multiple times and strangled her with a belt and extension cord.

He went on to explain that another woman walked into the garage during the murder and he pushed her from behind, causing her to hit her head on the floor. Nava-Garibay then said he grabbed the second victim by the head and stabbed her in the back of the neck.

Sheriffs responding to a call of a suspicious vehicle found a 2014 Honda Accord with blood on the bonnet and flesh and white hair on the outside of the car.

A “flesh appearing object” was also visible in the backseat.

Nava-Garibay is charged with two counts of first degree murder and two counts of removal or concealment of a body.

AT ten minutes past one on Monday afternoon, BBC News went live to one of its many members of staff based over in Brussels.

In an exchange lasting a good, whole minute, their man spelt out how the European Commission had finally explained away their almighty cock-up that previous Friday evening.

It was, reported the Beeb man, merely a "mistake" that the Commission – the entirely unelected executive that runs the European Union with an iron fist – had decided to tear up the Good Friday Agreement.

Traitor

The GFA protects open borders on the island of Ireland for trade purposes and was, for many Remainers, one of the main reasons for rejecting any idea of Brexit.

Not least because the GFA helped to encourage those nice IRA balaclava chaps to kill fewer people.

And the BBC, for night after night after night after night, would remind us of this over a mere four-and-a-half years.

Whether it was Emily Maitlis lecturing us from her Newsnight perch, or a never-ending selection of nodding Remain dogs on the main news, it was relentless.

Protecting the GFA

ALSO on Monday, it was announced that a niche UK publication dedicated to all things Brussels had been taken over by a new group of investors.

They include the recently retired former editor of the Financial Times – the revered Pink 'Un that was a huge cheerleader for our former European Commission overlords in Belgium.

Also piling in the cash was a chap called Mark Thompson (above) – who you may not have heard of, but whose CV includes "running the BBC" as one of its former director generals. See how this works yet?

was the highest of all anti-Brexit principles. And anyone even considering acting in a way that could harm it was considered – by pretty much everyone at the BBC – a heretic, a traitor, someone inherently evil.

Now, if Nigel Farage or Boris Johnson had suggested such a thing, the BBC's 830 million Guardian-reading reporters would have shrieked so much their eyes would have exploded.

Winterwatch would've been booted off in favour of an hour-long BBC News special on this sudden new assault on the British way of life.

And all the usual suspects – mainly former MPs who have long since dropped off the radar – would be wheeled out to demand a People's Vote because this certainly was not "what people voted for".

But when the EU high command itself decided to invoke Article 16, which means breaking the GFA – just because the UK has a much better Covid-19 vaccine rollout than they have – there was a stark change of tack at Beeb Towers.

The "mistake" was simply just that – and Simon McCoy in the studio and Gavin Lee in Brussels shared a sympathetic smirk at the latter's quoting of the Commission spokesman who said by way of explanation: "Only the Pope is infallible."

And then it was shuffle the papers time, and here's the news where you are...

Son sprayed dead mother with Fabreze

A BIT-part actor who was found dead with his mum's body, lived with her decomposing corpse for several days before he also passed away – and he'd used Febreze to mask the death stench!

William "Bill" Wedell – a small-time actor who appeared in movies such as It Could Happen To You with Nicholas Cage and Woody Allen's Crimes and Misdemeanors – spent FIVE days living with his dead mother's body inside their home in Manhattan, New York.

The bodies of Wedell, 64, and his 95-year-old mum, Agnes, were found during a routine welfare check.

Police sources say that bottles of the fabric freshener spray were found throughout the apartment.

Agnes had recently been ailing, and police believe she died of natural causes.

Cops do not suspect foul play in the death of her son – whose body was found naked on a bed, with several empty paracetamol bottles also discovered at the property.

Officers had gone to the home several times regarding calls about Bill's drinking.

Drug rehab boss busted for dealing!

THE owner of a narcotics rehabilitation centre has been arrested – for being a drug PUSHER!

Trevor J. Robinson, 44, was pulled over in a Maserati supercar while in possession of meth, heroin, and other banned substances.

He has been charged with possession with intent to distribute methamphetamine, cocaine, heroin, fentanyl and ecstasy.

Prosecutors said Robinson was the owner of Nuvista, an opioid addiction clinic that he runs in Olathe, Kansas.

An investigation into Robinson began when he was stopped by Kansas City police in October.

During a search, cops found 1.5kg of meth, pills, plastic bags containing cocaine and heroin, a digital scale, a notebook, and £9,000 in cash.

MARILYN MANSON WANTED TO BURN ME ALIVE!

By JUSTIN DUNN

justin@sundaysport.co.uk

EX-PORN star Jenna Jameson says rock star Marilyn Manson fantasised about burning her alive, loved BUM SEX and "liked to bite" her during sex.

The adult movie actress divulged the disturbing details about her brief affair in 1997 with the self-styled "antichrist".

Jenna, 46, spoke out amid a slew of allegations by Manson's ex-girlfriends, who came forward on Monday accusing him of sexual assault, violence and abuse.

Manson was dropped from his record label yesterday after US actress Evan Rachel Wood claimed Manson "horrifically abused" her during their three-year relationship. They began dating in 2007 and got engaged in 2010, but broke up later that year.

Manson has denied the allegations, saying they were "horrible distortions of reality".

Jenna said that unlike some of Manson's other exes' alleged experiences, she left him before he could inflict too much damage.

Jenna met the infamous rock star – real name Brian Warner – at the premiere for the 1997 Howard Stern adult movie Private Parts, in which she had a minor role.

She said: "We didn't go out long. I cut it off after he would nonchalantly say he fantasised about burning me alive."

Cocaine

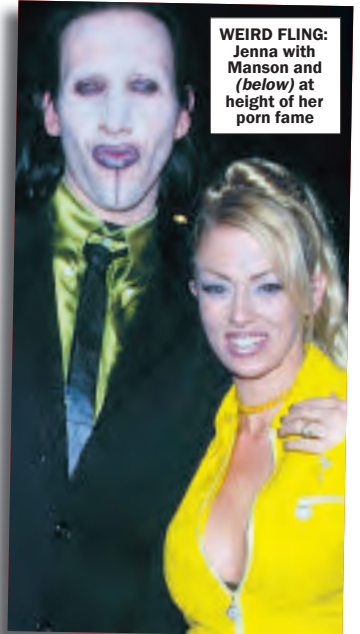

"Once he started speaking to me violently, I was like goodbye Brian. "Also, the bruises from him biting me weren't fun."

In the book How to Make Love Like a Porn Star: A Cautionary Tale, Jenna said Manson took "painkillers and muscle relaxants" in a limo with her and had frequent bathroom breaks to snort cocaine.

She said Manson was "tall, girlish, childlike, massively endowed and covered in scars in various stages of healing".

She wrote: "He would talk about wanting to see girls f prosthetic limbs or sucking [Manson bandmate] Twiggy's dick, (and I'd never be able to tell to what degree he was joking and to what degree he was serious)."

"And he wanted to f me in the ass a little too often for my comfort. Every time we were naked, he'd be going for my butt like a rat to cheese."

Love Island Maura's peek-a-boob!

MAURA Higgins sent temperatures soaring as she strutted her stuff in sheer lingerie and suspenders.

The Love Island favourite modelled a range of the sexy underwear to promote Ann Summers' goods in the sultry ad.

Maura, 30, is seen walking a mini catwalk as she paces up and down to the 80s hit Need You Tonight by INXS.

And sharp-eyed viewers even got a peep of the beauty's pierced nip!

Maura appeared on season five of Love Island in 2019, entering the villa on Day 10 and eventually finishing in fourth place alongside Curtis Pritchard. The series was won by Amber Gill and Greg O'Shea.

Mum jailed over teen sex bid

A MOTHER-of-three has been jailed for 14 years after she tried to lure a 14-year-old lad into sex romps.

Sarah Norton, 41, contacted the teen in August 2017 while they were jointly playing Sony PlayStation games online.

She sent the boy sexually explicit messages through the game's chat function.

Norton, of Jewett City, Connecticut, travelled to Allentown, Pennsylvania, with the intention of sexually abusing the teenager.

But the boy's dad spotted her messages and raised the alarm.

In December 2019, Norton was convicted of attempted enticement of a minor and travelling to engage in illicit sexual conduct.

And now she's been landed with the mammoth stretch – even though she never laid hands on the lad.

Even when she gets out of the slammer, Norton will have to serve 20 years of supervised release.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Ashleigh,

I HAVE an amazing girlfriend but none of my friends like her and refuse to hang out with me when I am with her.

We have been together for six months and I really think she could be the one – the sex is amazing, there's nothing she won't do in bed, and we get on really well.

She met my friends a few months back and I was desperate to show her off when we all had a night out in a club.

I got smashed and don't remember a thing, but the next day my mates said how she was trying it on with them all and trying to put her hands down their trousers.

My girlfriend denied all of it, and she really isn't the type of girl to do anything like that, but my mates won't change their minds. They say she is not right for me and I'll end up getting hurt.

What should I do?

BC, Southport

Ashleigh says...

WHY would your friends make it up? Looks like you'll have to choose – your girlfriend or your mates.

Dear Ashleigh,

I HAVE a huge problem with a bit of a weird fetish. I like to be tied up and spanked by the opposite sex – and I think about it all the time.

I have met a few mistresses who have similar sexual tastes to me and I have really loved it when they have given me a good caning.

I am really getting into it, but now I am scared that people at work or friends may find out.

I always hide my whip marks, but we had a works football match the other week and I was terrified to have a shower after the game in case my colleagues saw the marks.

I always hide them, but I'm still worried they will be seen one day.

I don't know what to do?

PC, Norfolk

Ashleigh says...

JUST carry on enjoying yourself – we all have little kinky secrets!

My massive boobs have their ups – and downs

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M seriously considering having my 38FF boobs reduced – and that's what I'd like your opinion on.

I'm a 25-year-old redhead who hasn't had too much trouble having my needs satisfied – by men (and sometimes women), so sex is not the issue.

I've always enjoyed the looks I've got from men, especially when I wear low-cut tops, and they find it almost impossible not to stare at my cleavage.

I never have any problems getting the fella I fancy to take me home, such is the power of my boobs.

And when I get there, I know how to use my breasts to keep him as long as I want.

In a sex situation they become the centre of attention, and I can control him to make sure my needs are met before he does his thing.

But big boobs do tend to make my back ache sometimes.

They get in the way in the gym and clothes cost a lot more, too, so it's a tricky one.

What do you say?

FG, Derby

Ashleigh says...

SPEND more time on your back! Sex on top will ease away those aches and pains.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION WITH

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week ASHLEIGH GEE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Ex-porn star showed me her skills for a tenner!

Dear Ashleigh,

I LIVE on the 25th floor of a council block and I've been unemployed for three years.

Ever since I left school, I have found various ways to occupy my time.

One is doing odd jobs for some of the women in the block where I live.

Most have got young kids and the fathers are often not around.

I'll go round and, for a few quid, fix their plumbing or put up a few shelves – and they are never slow to show me how grateful they are.

Slammed

A lot of them are real mingers and I'd rather have a wank than screw them – though sometimes I accept a quick blowjob in lieu of payment.

Recently, however, an ex-porn actress moved into the block. I recognised her straight away.

She was looking a bit rough and a neighbour told me that she'd fallen on hard times.

Anyway, I went round to offer my services and she said she really needed some help putting some self-assembly furniture together.

We got chatting and she said she still loved to fk and that she'd do anything for a tenner.

So I told her to strip, bend over the couch and finger herself.

She had no problem with this and it wasn't long before I got my rock-solid nine-incher out and slammed it up her gaping fanny.

After a few minutes I pulled out, spun her round and shot my load all over her face.

For the next couple of hours I got her to re-enact every porn scene I could imagine.

I've since enjoyed several such sessions, but now she pesters me pretty much every day for a tenner.

And the truth is, I'm sick of shagging her.

What can I do?

JT, east London

Dear Ashleigh,

I GOT pissed at a party and ended up shagging my fit mother-in-law.

She's well worth a fk, but I've managed to control myself until now.

Everyone had gone to bed when she started coming on to me.

I couldn't believe it when she took her top off to reveal her massive tits.

I was soon rock-hard and took her from behind on the couch.

The next day I saw her and said we should try to forget about it, but she said she's up for more.

I'm tempted, what should I do?

TH, Cornwall

Ashleigh says...

INTRODUCE her to some of your mates.

Ashleigh says...

BE very careful. If your wife finds out, it will be a nightmare for you.

Massages swell my bits – and our bank balance

Dear Ashleigh,

I HAVE a poorly-paid job in on the checkout of a supermarket and the wife and I have been skint lately.

To her credit, she offered to go out and get a bar job at nights to bring in some extra cash.

I have to admit I wasn't too keen on the idea, but she told me not to worry and that she'd be fine.

I'd just managed to get my head round it when I bumped into a friend of hers who shocked me by asking how the missus was doing in the massage parlour!

That night when she got in about 1.30am, I confronted her. She admitted what had been going on and I hit the roof.

But I calmed down a bit when she said she earned about £200 a shift.

Then she described some of the "services" she provided – hand relief, oral and full sex.

As she spoke, I began to get aroused and soon had a stiffy.

What followed was amazing. She took off my clothes and told me to lie on my stomach.

Then she stripped to her bra and panties and began to rub this sweet-smelling oil on me.

By this time my knob was gagging for it, and she took a grip of it as she rolled me over.

She traced her tongue along its length before removing her panties and easing herself on to me.

Soon she built up a rhythm and it took all my self-control to avoid early ejaculation.

I was in heaven, and 10 minutes later we both came to a shuddering climax.

Since then we've had great sex, but I'm still ashamed that she's having to do this job because I can't earn enough.

What should I do?

KD, Birmingham

Ashleigh says...

CARRY on until you get a better job!

#MY SEX FANTASY

‘As he thrusts
his cock at me,
I’d be so eager to please him!’

...WITH CHRISTINA
JOLIE
34D-25-34
FROM EGHAM, SURREY

MY ultimate fantasy is to be a submissive sex slave – I long to meet the right guy who gets a thrill out of controlling me and being a bit rough.

He would get me to call him master and tie me up and spank me.

There is something very thrilling and raw about being treated as a slave.

There is something very thrilling and raw about being treated as a slave.

Arousing

They say the idea of being sexually submissive can be arousing to people who are always in control outside of the bedroom and that applies to me, I'm no pushover.

It's hot to surrender control – it's maybe growing up thinking good girls don't have kinky sex, so when you surrender control you get to have precisely that!

It makes you feel vulnerable, so it'd have to be with someone I trust.

LOVELY Lauren Smethwick has a very raunchy fantasy.

The 34C Leeds cracker told us: "I LOVE the idea of being a call girl - a high class one of course!"

"Obviously, I don't want to sell my body but I do like to role-play."

It feels so naughty getting dressed up super sexy and then behaving like a real whore.

"Think Julia Roberts in the film Pretty Woman, she looked so incredibly hot in her thigh-high PVC boots."

Slutty

"I love to get dressed up to the nines and wear a really short, slutty mini-skirt - and of course suspenders and stockings."

"A wig always adds to the look, too!" Lauren added: "Role-play gives you the chance to act out a naughty side to you. Before the lockdown, I used to love meeting my boyfriend in a hotel bar and pretending that he's a client."

"I got a real kick out of people looking at us, at my slutty outfit, and wondering if I'm a real prostitute!"

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Down On Abby this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Small and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

VICTORIA BLAZE

SULTRY Victoria Blaze is the favourite pin-up of Midweek Sport reader Shane Mervyns, 24.

The call centre worker, from Shrewsbury, Shrops, said the Hull scorchers is "probably one of the most underrated glamour models".

And he claims her incredible 34D ample assets can send any guy crazy.

He said: "I love all the Midweek Sport babes but Victoria caught my eye."

"She hasn't been in the paper for ages, though. So could you print one of her recent photos?"

"I'd really appreciate it."

MICHELLE CLACK

DRIVING instructor Steve Whitworth reckons that Michelle Clack deserves a spot in this week's Show Me The Honey.

The 44-year-old, from Leeds, said that Cara's jaw-dropping 36DD whoppers are "the very best in the business" and that he would love to see more of the Maidstone-born babe.

He told us: "Michelle is one of the all-time best glamour models – she's a classic."

"I used to buy the paper just to see her latest pictures."

"Could you print one of her topless snaps – just for old time's sake?"

LISA FORWARD

LONDON chef Peter Nathan, 43, is the self-proclaimed "world's biggest fan" of Lisa Forward.

The Fulham babe is always a popular choice here at the Midweek Sport and from the look of this photo, it isn't hard to see why!

But Peter reckons there's always an opportunity to see Lisa's pert 34C boobs in Britain's breast newspaper!

BABE STATION CAMS

By SUZIE SHELTON

news@sundaysport.co.uk

GORGEOUS Preeti Young knows what she wants in the bedroom – and she's not afraid to demand it.

The 32FF cracker, from Lambeth, south London, said: "My thing is being ultra bossy in the bedroom – I just love to take full control.

"I'm no stranger to spanking, whips, butt plugs and strap-ons, and I love a little domination.

Naughty

"I love dressing up, too – leather bodices, fishnet body stockings... you name it, I've got it!"

She added: "My man can be any type of submissive – a naughty boy who needs to be punished, an obedient slave, or just a guy who will give in to me and all my demands.

"Some women are too often told they need to be submissive.

Well, I don't wait to be given 'permission' for sex – I take what I want, when I want it!"

Klopp: Big Ben ready for the big time

DREAM MOVE:
Ben Davies
can make an Anfield impact

JURGEN Klopp is backing Ben Davies to step up from Preston North End to the champions.

The Reds will fork out just £500,000 up front for the 25-year-old with another £1m in add-ons.

Liverpool had little choice but to bring in a defender after losing Joel Matip for the rest of the season.

He joins Virgil Van Dijk and Joe Gomez in the treatment room for months to come.

Klopp admits that Preston would not have been the obvious place to look for an instant replacement for Matip.

Davies isn't the only one arriving as Schalke stopper Ozan Kabak has joined on loan for six months with the view to a permanent move.

Excited

But Klopp believes the former Preston man can cope with the step up in grade.

The German said: "I think it's probably clear that in a normal transfer window, without any issues, we would not look at Preston if there's a player for us or something like that."

"It's not really likely. But since we saw him and since our situation got clearer and clearer – the problems we had – when we saw him we got really excited about it and thought 'wow'."

"The fact that he said yes to signing shows he is confident. That's exactly what we need."

DAVIES CAN COPE WITH KOP

We could have asked and he said, 'I'd prefer to stay at Preston or go somewhere else where I play 40-odd games per season'.

"So this is a challenge but it's an opportunity – a big, big opportunity. I see it exactly like that."

"It can be a wonderful story and it's all about Ben and me to make sure this story will be really great."

"And we believe 100% in development. I'm sure he wants to learn still, we are ready to teach still, to coach still."

Davies has yet to play in the Premier League but has been a regular in the rough and tumble of the Championship for the past five seasons.

Klopp thinks that will serve him well as he'll be the kind of player that rolls his sleeves up and gets stuck in.

He added: "We have centre-halves and what we have to bring in is different qualities and that we are all really ready for the challenges ahead of us."

"We see the potential really. We see the quality and we see the potential as well because he's 25 and there's a lot to come for him. I love a lot about his play."

"He's a really good footballer, looks like a proper leader in this Preston team, good in challenges, looks football smart, can play different positions because he played in a back three and a back four and all these things."

Recovery

"That makes him really interesting so I'm really looking forward to working with him. I know for him it's an opportunity and I see it exactly the same for us, that it's a really good thing to do."

Klopp is hopeful that Matip will make a full recovery and be back for next season.

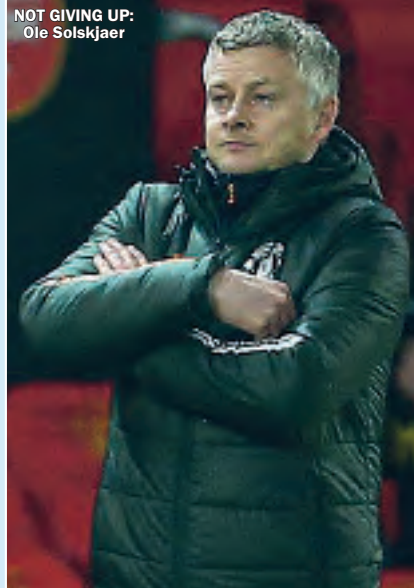

He said: "He injured his ankle against Spurs and played the game on and now is out for the season, so you can imagine how much he tried to stay on the pitch and tried to help us."

"We will wait for him. He has now the rest of this season, then the summer, then the pre-season to get ready again and he will be ready again."

FITNESS THE KEY TO TITLE SAYS OLE

By ANDY MILLOM

OLE Gunnar Solskjaer believes the team that can cope with games coming thick and fast will end up winning the title.

The pandemic has played havoc with the football calendar and fixtures are being squashed into shorter and shorter periods.

Some teams have seven matches to play in February and things won't slow down much after that. The Manchester United boss believes it will be more important than ever to recover between games and try to be consistent. That could hold the key to success this year.

Solskjaer said: "Every team is in the same situation and position. Whoever recovers the best and performs the best, whoever's coping with the situation the best, will win."

"We want to put a run together. We need to get back to performing at our high level and standard."

"Sometimes you've got to be lucky and sometimes it's better to be lucky than good."

"More times than not, it's best to just focus on yourself and keep on being consistent in your behaviour."

"If you prepare the same way and approach games the right way, you'll get results."

The season has had many twists and turns with the likes of Chelsea going from topping the table to sacking their manager within the space of a couple of months.

Solskjaer expects more ups and downs in the coming weeks.

And he believes it is far from over even with City going well.

He added: "The season is so tight, with so many deciding factors. We've played City once and we're a little bit more than halfway through the league. We can only play the opposition once from now until the end, anyway. So it won't make too big a difference to think about the others."

DRIVING SEAT: Guardiola

"We can't control what any other club is doing. We can only control our own performances, our own results. That's our focus."

"We have to keep performing, keep improving, which we have, and keep scoring goals."

"There's only one team that's scored more than us in the Premier League. So keep scoring more goals, keep conceding less."

MIK UP FOUR IT

Arteta: We can make Champs League

MIKEL Arteta says Arsenal are going all guns blazing for the top four.

The Londoners' boss is still looking on the bright side after making the club's worst start to a season since 1974.

Things have improved in the past couple of weeks but they are still stuck in midtable. But Arteta has his eye on breaking into the top four to earn a spot in the Champions League next season.

The Spaniard said: "There are a lot of points to be won and you have to be consistent."

"Let's stick to what we can do, what we can do better and the better we do that the bigger chance at the end of the season there will be able to fight for that.

"There are things that are not really in our control at the moment, but many of them are and that's the things that we have to do as well as possible."

Arteta points to the strange results this season as a reason for hope. Shocks like Sheffield United winning at Old Trafford.

He added: "You see the scores every weekend and you go: 'Wow, very surprised'."

"And most of the time it's not one or two, it's more than that."

"It tells you how difficult the season has been for everybody and how much things can change."
